Philosophy

ChildKind, Inc. is dedicated to providing quality professional services to infants and toddlers and their families.

ChildKind, Inc. operates on the principle that infants and toddlers grow in learning environments that provide experiences aimed at fostering their development in five major areas:

- ❖ SOCIAL/EMOTIONAL - A warm, consistent, and caring environment.
- ❖ GROSS MOTOR - Large muscle development and coordination.
- ❖ FINE MOTOR - Small muscle development (puzzles, blocks, and toys).
- ❖ LANGUAGE - Communication and listening.
- ❖ COGNITIVE - Problem solving and challenges for young minds.

We encourage young children to develop at their own rates. Developmental screening, daily observations, and parent/family input provide the foundation for developing individual activities for children.

Our professional educators provide opportunities for affectionate and stimulating developmental activities. Throughout the day your child will also experience lots of nurturing, laughing, smiling, and "conversation".

How Do I Get on the Waiting List?

The NIH has contracted with LifeWork Strategies, Inc. to oversee and administer a consolidated waiting list for all three NIH-sponsored child care centers.

If you are interested in placing your child's name on the waiting list for this center or another NIH-sponsored child care center, you may contact:

LifeWork Strategies, Inc.
1-800-777-1720

or apply on-line at:

Center enrollment is limited to the following priority order:

- ❑ Siblings of children already enrolled in a center.
- ❑ Parents or legal guardians, who work for the NIH.
- ❑ Employees of Federal agencies whose official duty station is in an NIH facility.
- ❑ Employees of other Federal agencies.
