DIVISION OF OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH AND SAFETY - AT A GLANCE

VIDEO SCRIPT

INTRO

[NIH Logo Centered]

Welcome to the National Institutes of Health Safetycasts in a Minute.

BODY

[4 images of employees appear one at a time. Individuals are engaged in surveillance, consultation, training and education.]

Through surveillance, consultation, training and education, the Division of Occupational Health and Safety (DOHS) develops and implements NIH-wide safety and health programs.

[DOHS Pamphlet spins into foreground]

To follow is a quick glance at services provided by DOHS

[Title slide and bulleted list appears followed by photo of nurse holding needle on right side of frame]

Occupational Medical Service covers

(Bullet) Flu immunization program

(Bullet) Care for Medical Emergencies...
(Bullet) Medical Surveillance Programs
(Bullet) Preplacement Evaluations for Employees and Summer Students
(Bullet) Medical Support for Work-Related International Travel

(Bullet) Medical Support for Work-Related International Travel
(Bullet) Care for Work-Related Illnesses and Injuries
(Bullet) Confidential Care by Employee Assistance Program Counselors

Employee Health and Safety Programs cover

(Bullet) Asbestos Management

(Bullet) Automated External Defibrillator Training
(Bullet) Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation Training
(Bullet) Blood Pressure Monitoring Stations
(Bullet) Employee Assistance Services and

(Bullet) Ergonomics

Other Employee Health and Safety Programs are

(Bullet) Food and Drinking Water Safety
(Bullet) Indoor Air Quality and Assessment Monitoring

(Bullet) Integrated Pest Management Services
(Bullet) Mold and Water Intrusion Investigations
(Bullet) Nursing Mother’s Program

(Bullet) Safet Shoe Program

The DOHS also offers Laboratory-related services such as

(Bullet) Biological Safety Cabinet Certification

(Bullet) Chemical Fume Hood Testing

(Bullet) Formaldehyde and Other Chemical Surveillance

(Bullet) Laboratory Clearance
(Bullet) Laser Safety and (Bullet) Nanoparticle Monitoring

Additional Laboratory-Related Services are

(Bullet) Respiratory Protection

(Bullet) Safe Lab Practices and Procedures and Training for:

- Bloodborne Pathogens and
- Laboratory Safety
DOHS provides a service for Biological Safety Compliance

Some of these services are:

- Biosurety Program
- Biorisk Management
- Pathogen and Recombinant DNA Registrations
- Quarantine Permit Service Office for Import, Export and Shipping of Biological Materials and the Select Agent Program
[Graphics of 4 spotlights appear from left side of frame in sequence (top to bottom) followed by text. (first spotlight) Division of, (second spotlight) Occupational, (third spotlight) Health and (fourth spotlight) Safety]

For more information on publications and training opportunities contact the Division of Occupational Health and Safety at (301) 496-2960 or online at http://go.usa.gov/xCCae.